JOHN HARBAUGH

HEAD COACH

COLLEGE: MIAMI (OH)
BORN: 9/23/62, PERRYSBURG, OH
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 26/16

Super Bowl-winning head coach John Harbaugh is in his 16th season at the Ravens' helm. The 2019 NFL Coach of the Year has led Baltimore to a playoff berth in 10 (2008-12, 2014, 2018-20 & 2022) of his 15 previous seasons, and in 2012, captured the franchise's second World Championship.

Though he never wants it to be about him, it's impossible to ignore Harbaugh's significant success. Here's a look at the NFL's third-longest-tenured head coach (Bill Belichick – 24 seasons & Mike Tomlin – 17 seasons), entering the 2023 campaign:

• Since Harbaugh's 2008 Baltimore arrival, the Ravens have posted the NFL's fourth-most total victories (158, including playoffs). He has also led the Ravens to 147 regular season wins since 2008, ranking as the NFL's fifth most.

• Under Harbaugh, Baltimore is one of five teams (NE, GB, KC & Sea.) to earn a playoff berth in 10 of the past 15 seasons.

• The Ravens' 11 playoff wins since 2008 tie (GB & SF) for the NFL's third most, trailing only New England (16) and Kansas City (12). Of those Baltimore victories, an NFL-best eight have come on the road.

• Harbaugh's 11 playoff victories tie (Pete Carroll, Marv Levy & Bill Parcells) for the sixth most by a head coach in the first 15 seasons of an NFL coaching career (Joe Gibbs – 17, Bill Belichick – 15, Chuck Noll – 14, Bill Cowher – 12 & Mike Holmgren – 12).

• Harbaugh owns the most road playoff wins (eight) by a head coach in NFL history. Tom Landry (Dal.) and Tom Coughlin (Jax./NYG) are second with seven each.

• Harbaugh is one of 12 coaches to earn at least 10 playoff berths in his first 15 seasons (Pete Carroll, Tony Dungy, Bud Grant, Mike Holmgren & Marty Schottenheimer – 11; Harbaugh, Bill Cowher, Chuck Knox, Mike McCarthy, Chuck Noll, Andy Reid & Mike Tomlin – 10).

• The 2012 Ravens won Super Bowl XLVII, 34-31, over the San Francisco 49ers in one of the most dramatic games in NFL history. Baltimore jumped to a 28-6 lead, but needed a critical goal-line stand late in the fourth quarter to help seal the victory. The Ravens overcame a furious second-half comeback and a 34-minute power outage at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in New Orleans to clinch the franchise's second World Championship.

• Under Harbaugh's guidance, the Ravens have appeared in three AFC Championship games (2008, 2011, 2012) and have won at least one playoff game in seven of their 10 postseasons with him as head coach.

• Harbaugh is the only head coach in NFL history (since 1970 merger) to win a playoff game in each of his first four and five seasons. He is also the only head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in six of the first seven seasons of a coaching career.

Dobbins (520), RB Kenyan Drake (482) & RB Gus Edwards (433).

K Justin Tucker scored a single-season career-high 142 points and made an NFL-high 37 FGs, while WR/RS Devin Duvernay posted a 103-yard KOR-TD in Week 2 vs. Mia., helping Baltimore's special teams rank No. 3 in Football Outsiders' 2022 DVOA rating.

Seven Ravens were voted to the Pro Bowl: TE Mark Andrews (third), RS Devin Duvernay (second), CB Marlon Humphrey (third), QB Tyler Huntley (first, as an alternate), FB Patrick Ricard (fourth), LB Roquan Smith (first) and K Justin Tucker (sixth).

COMMUNITY IMPACT

Devoted to his family and Christian faith, John is most active in helping the Baltimore area be better for families. He earned the 2011 "Power of Excellence Award" from the (Ben) Carson Scholars for "demonstrating excellence in life and being a role model." He served on the board of the Port Discovery Children's Museum and is a contributor to numerous Baltimore-area events and charities. Also a willing volunteer, his wife, Ingrid, contributes to the Helping Up Mission and Sarah's House, and she is on the Board of Trustees at The Maryland Zoo in Baltimore. In 2020, the couple made significant donations to help fund the distribution of meals to healthcare workers serving on the frontlines of the COVID-19 pandemic. John and Ingrid also support Compassion International, which is an organization that aims to positively impact the long-term development of children living in poverty globally. Additionally, the couple is heavily involved in FCA Baltimore and has sponsored several Baltimore City girls' lacrosse teams, helping make the sport more available to youth who don't traditionally have much access.

Harbaugh is a strong advocate of the U.S. Military. The NFL awarded him its 2013 Salute to Service Award, acknowledging exceptional efforts by those in the league who honor and support military members. (He was also a finalist for the award in 2011.) In 2012, the late Army Chief of Staff General Raymond Odierno presented him with the Outstanding Civilian Service Award. Harbaugh has also visited numerous military installations, including bases in the Persian Gulf as part of the inaugural NFL USO Coaches Tour (2009), the Naval Special Warfare Center in Coronado, Calif., (2011), Andrews Air Force Base – just two days after the capture of Osama Bin Laden (2011) – and undisclosed locations in Turkey and Afghanistan.

In 2008, Harbaugh helped institute Military Appreciation Day – an annual event that takes place during Ravens training camp. Since its establishment, over 11,000 service members have enjoyed preferred seating and opportunities to meet Ravens players and coaches. Once the season begins, Harbaugh then invites wounded warriors to be his guests at every Ravens home game. In 2017, he donated New Era hats to soldiers in Afghanistan. The hats represented all four of the major professional sports leagues and several from the NCAA as well. Additionally, he has purchased school supplies for children whose parents are serving in the military and has sent care packages to troops overseas.

PERSONAL

A history buff, Harbaugh has taken the Ravens to Gettysburg, Pa., during offseason team activities to learn about the Civil War. Near the end of the 2017 training camp, he surprised the entire team by cancelling practice on two occasions, loading everyone on buses to visit The Pentagon and Arlington National Cemetery and another day visit to the National Museum of African American History and Culture in Washington, D.C. The trips were opportunities for players, coaches and staff to receive behind-the-scenes tours of the historic locations and show appreciation for what each represents.

John attended Pioneer (Ann Arbor, MI) HS, where he and his brother, Jim, were inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in 2016. John and Ingrid have a daughter, Alison, who is a rising senior lacrosse player at the University of Notre Dame.

THE PIECES ARE IN PLACE FOR 2023

By Clifton Brown

WITH NEW WEAPONS, A NEW OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR AND LAMAR JACKSON'S NEW CONTRACT IN PLACE, THE RAVENS FEEL POISED TO MAKE A SUPER BOWL RUN.

After one of the most important offseasons in franchise history, the Ravens feel poised for a special 2023 season.

Quarterback Lamar Jackson agreed to a new five-year contract extension in May, giving the Ravens a happy ending to the NFL's most-discussed offseason story. The additions of Pro Bowler Odell Beckham Jr., first-round draft pick Zay Flowers and veteran Nelson Agholor give Baltimore its deepest receiving corps since Jackson joined the Ravens in 2018.

Offensive Coordinator Todd Monken has a plethora of weapons to work with, and the offense has the potential to be versatile and explosive. When Jackson was drafted in 2018, he promised to bring a Super Bowl to Baltimore. He hasn't forgotten and believes 2023 could be the season.

"I said something in 2018 – I think it was April 26th, if I'm not mistaken – and I meant that," Jackson said. "I'm standing on that until I get it done. Before my time is up, and I branch off somewhere else, I really want to finish my career here and win a Super Bowl here."

The Ravens will have a different offensive look, orchestrated by Monken, who comes to Baltimore after winning two straight national championships as Georgia's offensive coordinator. In addition to the new receivers, Rashod Bateman and Devin Duvernay are expected to make full recoveries from their 2022 foot injuries. All-Pro tight end Mark Andrews leads a strong tight end group that includes blossoming second-year players Isaiah Likely and Charlie Kolar.

Surrounded by more weapons, Andrews can't wait for Baltimore's new attack to be unveiled.

"I think it's going to be a dangerous offense," Andrews said. "I've really loved what Coach Monken has had to teach and the way he's teaching and his energy that he brings – very enthusiastic. I think the sky is the limit. I think for us, it's just about taking charge, taking control of this offense, making it ours."

The offensive line returns almost fully intact and running backs J.K. Dobbins and Gus Edwards should be stronger, now a year further removed from serious knee injuries that forced them to miss the 2021 season. Monken smiled when asked about Baltimore's offensive talent.

"It's a lot more fun that way," Monken said. "You're paid to move the football and score, and that's a lot easier with talented players. As I always say, 'Cookies taste better with sugar than they do with vinegar.' So, you surround yourself with sugar."

Baltimore has a rich defensive history and All-Pro inside linebacker Roquan Smith intends to continue that tradition. The Ravens' defense inherited a different persona after Smith was acquired in a midseason 2022 trade. Baltimore's defense allowed just 14.7 points per game in the nine regular season games after Smith arrived, and he joined Patrick Queen to form perhaps the NFL's top inside linebacker tandem.

The Ravens' secondary is anchored by Pro Bowl cornerback Marlon Humphrey and athletic safeties Marcus Williams and Kyle Hamilton. The defensive line remains deep and talented led by Michael Pierce and Justin Madubuike, while the Ravens will count on young outside linebackers David Ojabo and Odafe Oweh to join Tyus Bowser in bolstering the pass rush.

The AFC North remains extremely competitive, as does the entire conference. However, the Ravens have made the playoffs four of the last five seasons and enter the year with a deep and talented roster. The players, coaches and front office are determined to win the organization's third Lombardi Trophy, and the sooner the better.

"We've done a lot of good things, but we haven't achieved what we said we would, what Lamar said he would," General Manager Eric DeCosta said. "We're not there yet, but we're going to get there. We're on our way."

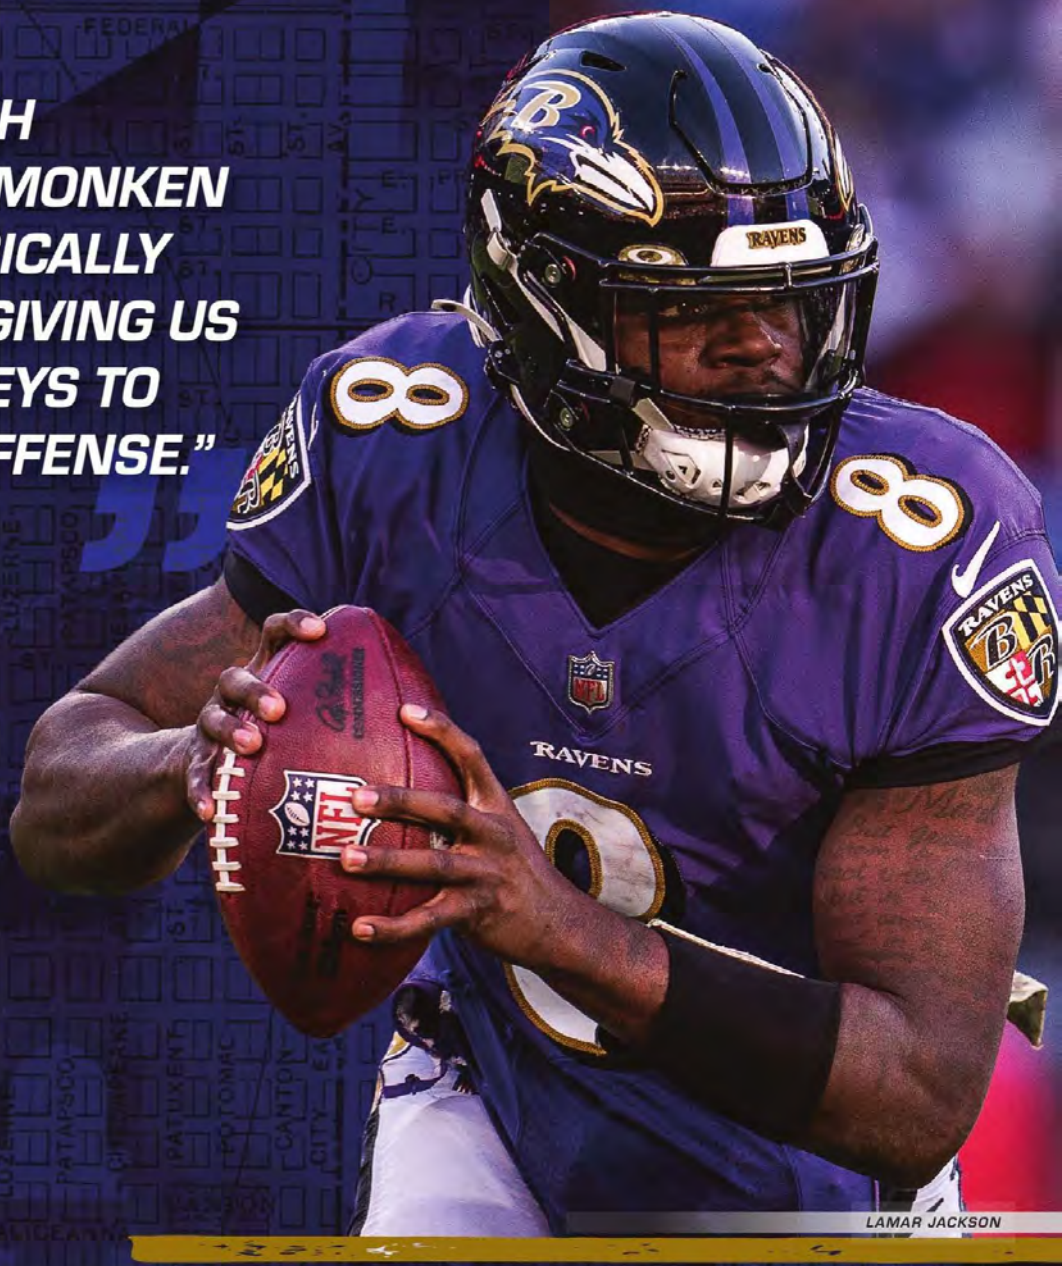
BRINGING THE ENERGY IN BALTIMORE

By Rachel Richards

ZAY FLOWERS

"COACH TODD MONKEN IS BASICALLY JUST GIVING US THE KEYS TO THE OFFENSE."



LAMAR JACKSON

A PREVIEW OF THE RAVENS OFFENSE

There's a new energy coursing through the halls of the Under Armour Performance Center, one that can be heard loud and clear. This is largely thanks to a new captain at the offensive helm, offensive coordinator Todd Monken, who joins the Ravens after three seasons and back-to-back CFP National Championships at Georgia. Monken led a Bulldogs' attack that put up 616 total points and 7,517 total yards in 2022, terrorizing defenses week-in and week-out.

Since Monken's February hiring, players and coaches alike have spoken highly of the new "up-tempo" and "quarterback-friendly" scheme that will feature many playmakers.

"I really like the energy," expressed head coach John Harbaugh. "We usually have energy, but I think Todd Monken has a style that kind of lends itself to an up-tempo-type of an offense. He's got an up-tempo personality."

Between the new scheme and a familiar face at quarterback who will be leading it, Ravens fans have a lot to be excited about. Just a few hours before the 2023 NFL Draft was set to kick off, QB Lamar Jackson and the team agreed to terms on a historic contract, guaranteeing his presence at M&T Bank Stadium for the next five years.

TODD MONKEN & MORGAN MOSES

NELSON AGHOLOR

The unanimous 2019 NFL MVP enters the 2023 season with 101 passing touchdowns and a 45-16 record as a starter. And under Monken's new system, Jackson's role as a leader and decision-maker should expand, allowing more freedom to adjust plays at the line of scrimmage.

"Coach Todd Monken is basically just giving us the keys to the offense," Jackson expressed at an offseason OTA practice. "I'm loving it."

After locking in the franchise quarterback, the next step for executive vice president and general manager Eric DeCosta was to bolster the offensive weapons around Jackson, and the wide receivers room became a major point of emphasis. With the 22nd-overall pick in this year's draft, the Ravens selected Boston College's Zay Flowers, an elusive, dynamic receiver that the scouting department had its eye on for a while. As BC's all-time leader in receptions (200), receiving yards (3,056) and receiving TDs (29), Flowers looks to be a strong contributor to the passing attack.

"It was early in the process that we identified Zay as a guy who we thought would bring a lot of value to this club," DeCosta said. "His playmaking ability, who he is as a person, his grit, his determination, his background – all of those things factor in. We're fired up to get him."

The Ravens also added a few seasoned vets to help mentor the young receiving corps in former first-round selections Odell Beckham Jr. and Nelson Agholor. These two Super Bowl-winning receivers were significant additions to Baltimore's roster, proving to fans that DeCosta and crew are not afraid to invest in all-star talent.

MARK ANDREWS

While some faces in this offensive unit might be new in 2023, fans can also anticipate some of their returning favorites wearing purple and black on gameday. Rashod Bateman and Devin Duvernay, who both sustained season-ending foot injuries last year, are on track to return to action with chips on their shoulders.

Another returning veteran expected to have a key role in Monken's new offense is, of course, Mark Andrews, the Ravens' most productive receiver in 2022. The three-time Pro Bowler (2019, 2021-22) has finished the last four seasons with at least 700 receiving yards and hopes to extend that streak into Year Six.

Monken's new system may be poised to emphasize the passing attack, but Baltimore's run game also aims to pick up right where it left off in 2022. Last season, the Ravens recorded the NFL's second-most rushing yards (2,720) and the most games with at least 150 rushing yards (12). The unit featured four players with over 400 yards on the ground – three of whom return in 2023: Jackson, J.K. Dobbins and Gus Edwards.

Baltimore's dynamic backfield will again depend heavily on its offensive front, another unit aiming to build off last season's success, to pave the way. First-rounder (2022) Tyler Linderbaum, standout vet Morgan Moses and Pro Bowler Ronnie Stanley are certainly a force to be reckoned with, allowing time for playmakers on the outside to shine.

With an arsenal of offensive stars, a spirited leader and a championship mentality, the stage is set for the Ravens' offense to have an exciting season.

It's evident that Super Bowl LVII is at the forefront of every player's and coach's mind, but the team knows there are many steps to accomplishing that goal. It takes more than just a talented roster to win championships, and success isn't achieved overnight. It's going to require hard work each and every day, each and every rep, but the Ravens Flock can bet this offense is hungry and focused on bringing the Lombardi Trophy back to Charm City.

CHANGE IS CONSTANT, BUT SO IS THE STANDARD

By Dan Horowitz

A PREVIEW OF THE RAVENS DEFENSE

Superseded in headlines by speculation and, ultimately, splashy 2023 offensive acquisitions, let's not forget that defense is – and always will be – the Ravens' bread and butter. Furthermore, while defensive buzz has reduced to whisper, Mike Macdonald's high performing unit aims to overcome veteran departures and generate production from youngsters in new roles, all while upholding a Ravens' standard of defensive excellence that dates back as far as the franchise itself.

But that challenge was made easier by one decision.

On Nov. 1, 2022, the Ravens acquired Roquan Smith. Now the NFL's highest-paid off-ball linebacker after agreeing to a five-year extension with the Ravens last December, Smith was originally sent to Baltimore for A.J. Klein and 2023 second- and fifth-round Draft selections. His 2022 impact was immediate and continuous, enduring each of the Ravens' final nine regular season games and a postseason defeat at Cincinnati.

"Since he's been here, Roquan has been a leader on and off the field, impressing us with his attitude and desire to be a great player and teammate every day," said executive vice president & general manager Eric DeCosta. "There is certainly a standard of defense in Baltimore, and Roquan has proven that he can surpass that lofty mark."

"HAVING A FULL OFFSEASON UNDER MY BELT, IT'S ONLY GOING TO MAKE ME PLAY BETTER AND FASTER. I FEEL LIKE COMING INTO THIS SEASON, THERE WON'T BE ANY THINKING AT ALL, AND I FEEL LIKE I'LL BE EVEN SHARPER WITH MY TOOLS."

ROQUAN SMITH

PATRICK QUEEN

Around Smith – who will be manning the middle alongside Patrick Queen for years to come – Baltimore's defense boasts young, athletic, rangy and versatile contributors who are primed for more responsibilities in 2023.

In the trenches, healthy veteran Michael Pierce, standout Justin Madubuike, rising talent Broderick Washington and breakout candidate Travis Jones aim to spearhead a group that was previously led by potential Hall of Famer Calais Campbell, who signed with Atlanta during the offseason.

"I don't think you look at it like we're trying to replace Calais Campbell," Coach Macdonald stated. "It will be a piecewise approach that we bring, whether it's interior rush or playing all across the line on early downs. We have the guys to do it, and we have a great young core of D-linemen."

On the edge, where former Raven Justin Houston imposed a serious threat to opposing quarterbacks in 2022, teenage buddies Odafe Oweh and David Ojabo intend on becoming a dominant tandem only previously seen at New Jersey's Blair Academy.

DAVID OJABO & ODAFE OWEH

"We just want to show Baltimore a different thing that they haven't seen necessarily," Oweh said. "We know that there's a real opportunity right here and a real great story coming from where we both come from – being together, starting football late, soaring and having trials and tribulations and beating that. So, we know the opportunity that we have. We want to be those guys for Baltimore."

Unlocking Oweh and Ojabo and helping shape them into the tandem they so desire will be a focal point for new outside linebackers coach Chuck Smith. A pass-rush guru dubbed "Dr. Rush," Smith brings to Baltimore extensive and diverse experiences as a player (1992-2000), coach and private pass rush trainer for numerous standout pros.

TRAVIS JONES

MARCUS WILLIAMS

BRODERICK WASHINGTON & JUSTIN MADUBUIKE

KYLE HAMILTON

MARLON HUMPHREY

"It is a real thing," Smith declared about the duo's palpable chemistry. "Those guys are locked together. When they're lined up out there, they're communicating. They're talking the same language, and they're helping each other. It's not just a friend thing; this is a work thing. I'm not talking about the 'buddy-buddy, we're hanging out;' I'm talking about getting ready to win a championship."

The Ravens' secondary experienced similar turnover to that of its neighboring positions in the front seven, but it will still be anchored by three-time Pro Bowler Marlon Humphrey and ballhawk Marcus Williams, easing the burden for defensive backs expected to appear in new roles in 2023. Topping that list is Kyle Hamilton, Baltimore's 2022 first-rounder who was used as a Swiss Army knife in his rookie campaign, predominantly seeing action as a box presence at the nickel position. Following a trade that sent Chuck Clark to the Jets, Hamilton's future now appears to be that of a more traditional safety.

"I feel like I can slide into that role for sure and perform at a high level," Hamilton affirmed. "I feel like that's what the Ravens drafted me for, and that's what I'm here for. I feel like I can definitely produce there."

Change is a constant in life, from which not even the enormity and exclusivity of the NFL is immune. Sneakily, the Ravens' defense is experiencing it on all levels and in more ways than in years past.

Despite that, Baltimore's standard remains at an all-time high, and how the defense responds to those changes could be the determining factor in how far the 2023 Ravens go.

Guma Spicy Pies™

#LoveIsSpicy

A successful journey of hope, determination and love...

Augustine Guma has traveled a great distance from Uganda to Virginia.

GUMA Spicy Pies are THE icebreakers to UNITE communities together, share stories of resilience and to support one another hatching dreams. As my book and movies will narrate; the most powerful force in the world is that inner burning desire God has instilled in you (the Golden seed, Hope, LOVE) and it's only your wealth if you share it (network-empower, partner and support one another). It's hard to Hatch Your Dreams alone; I have done it. These movies will help hatch communities faster if we all do it together. It's a sacrifice to love unconditionally - Love is Spicy. In our second documentary, we will find a group who believes in this and to use all our Money (Powerful), Knowledge (More Powerful), to Hatch the most Powerful Golden seeds- Brain Power-Love. Then the sky will be the limit and the world will be sweet as our delicious caramel apple raisin pies!

These pies are delicately spiced, mouth-watering, flaky appetizers that are perfect for any occasion. You will start by eating 1 and end up eating 3, because they are so delicious and habit forming. Plus to top things off, they are nutritious and made with only top-quality ingredients with little or no oil. Use our pies as an exotic hot appetizer, popular party Hors d'Oeuvres, a quick and easy lunch, dinner entree or combo, or even just as a salad topper.

Try our Spicy Wings and Our Other Flavored Pies including Beef, Crab, Lobster, Lamb, Vegetable and Caramel Apple Raisin

CHRIS HORTON

MORE THAN WHAT MEETS THE EYES

By Dan Horowitz

A PREVIEW OF THE RAVENS SPECIAL TEAMS

The Ravens' consistent special teams prowess starts with Justin Tucker – a multi-lingual opera singer, talented impersonator and man of many other talents beyond those displayed with his right leg – but like with the greatest kicker to walk planet earth, there's more to the unit than what meets the eyes. And just as Tucker makes sure to do, even after connecting on record-breaking kicks and delivering all-time performances, let's deflect and echo praise to the overlooked, ancillary components that encompass all aspects of football's third phase – one in which often plays out as the determinant in victory and defeat.

In Football Outsiders' annual special teams DVOA ratings, a metric for analyzing each play against NFL averages based on several variables, Baltimore finished ninth in Chris Horton's first year leading the special teams (2019) and has posted a Top 3 mark each season since, with a No. 3 ranking in 2022, No. 1 ranking in 2021 and No. 2 ranking in 2020.

Yes, since 2019, Tucker has led the Ravens to the NFL's highest field goal percentage (91.3%), but also Baltimore's opponents have converted kicks at the league's second-lowest rate (78.5%), and the team's five blocked field goals are tied for the second most.

JUSTICE HILL, KEVON SEYMOUR & MALIK HARRISON

DEVIN DUVERNAY

Beyond the field goal units, the Ravens' kick return and kickoff coverage teams have performed amongst the league's best. Baltimore is one of eight teams with multiple kickoff return touchdowns since 2019, and the man behind them both – Devin Duvernay – is the NFL's only return specialist with multiple Pro Bowls during that span. The team's average starting field position after an opponent kickoff (own 25.9-yard line) is tied for the league's third-best mark, while the kickoff coverage unit permits the league's fourth-fewest opponent yards per kickoff return (20.6).

The punting numbers – including punt return and punt coverage – under Horton are just as notable. Since 2019, Baltimore has downed a whopping 42.8% of punts inside the 20-yard line, good for the league's fourth-highest clip, while averaging the fifth-most yards per punt return (10.5) and permitting the fourth-fewest yards per punt return (7.2).

As the numbers suggest, greatness has been displayed in all elements of the Ravens' special teams execution since 2019. But the franchise's approach to the phase and emphasis on it, which began Jan. 19, 2008, the day John Harbaugh was appointed as the third head coach in Ravens history, tells an even bigger story.

To this day, Coach Harbaugh possesses that same fervor for the underappreciated part of the game he once cut his teeth with as the Eagles' nearly decade-long special teams coordinator. Possibly drawing on his own coaching experience, "Harbs" sees his players' special teams impact as a strong indicator of their potential in either of the more glamorous phases of the game – offense or defense.

"We believe that if you're not a good special teams player at some point in your career, it's pretty rare that you're a good football player," stated Harbaugh. "Almost all of our guys have come through the ranks on special teams here. Now, it's expected. I would like to think that's why they play well when the opportunity comes."

As always, but – given the state of the Ravens' roster during the spring and summer ramp-up towards the regular season – this year more than ever, individual special teams proficiency will assist the coaching staff and personnel department in roster construction, positional battles and even gameday activation decisions once the season comes along.

"It's true for all of the guys, and it's true for every team," said Horton, confirming that final roster spots are often determined by special teams. "Obviously, everyone wants to play offense and defense, and I encourage guys to want to play offense and defense, but it's very important for you to find a role, and a lot of the time, for young guys, that role starts on special teams."

While 2023 special teams contributors remain up in the air, expect the same from the unit's overall approach, execution and results – greatness in all facets – even if not much beyond Tucker immediately meets the eyes.

GETTING TO KNOW THE

2023 DRAFT PICKS

"I would say that every single guy on this list has played starter-level football, and we think can be a starter in the NFL."

ERIC DECOSTA, EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

FIELD YATES @FIELDYATES
How things can change in a short period of time. Since Easter Sunday, the Ravens have signed Odell Beckham, Jr. then extended Lamar Jackson to a record-setting contract and hours later drafted Zay Flowers. That offense is looking up.

STEVE SMITH SR. @STEVESMITHSR89
Congratulations @ZayFlowers! @Ravens, you got a good one

ADAM SHEIN @ADAMSCHEIN
Ravens steal my favorite WR in draft. Great stuff Eric DeCosta.

NFL ROOKIE WATCH @NFLROOKIEWATXH
The Baltimore Ravens landed a STUD

SARAH ELLISON @SGELLISON
Appreciation post for Eric DeCosta. That man pulled off magic this last month from OBJ, to Lamar Jackson, Zay Flowers and the draft whole class. Ravens are lucky to have a GM like him take over after the Great Ozzie Newsome.

LUKE WINSTEL @LUKEWINSTEL
Simpson is a versatile STEAL for Baltimore. They're getting a defender who leads by example and elevates others around him.

TOM PELISSERO @TOMPELISSERO
So on the same day Baltimore locks up Lamar Jackson, they also add one of the most fun weapons to watch in this entire draft.

DOV KLEIMAN @NFL_DOVKLEIMAN
@ZayFlowers This kid is going to be so good 🔥

COLE JACKSON @COLE JACKSON
Underrated intangible of the Ravens draft class is that all 6 have a certain toughness mentality to them.

ZAY FLOWERS

WR | BOSTON COLLEGE | ROUND 1 (22)

"It was early in the process that we identified Zay as a guy who we thought would bring a lot of value to this club. We're fired up to get him."

EVP & GM Eric DeCosta

TRENTON SIMPSON

ILB | CLEMSON | ROUND 3 (86)

"He's very active on film, and his character is off the charts. At Clemson, they rave about him. He comes from a great program."

EVP & GM Eric DeCosta

TAVIUS ROBINSON

OLB | MISSISSIPPI | ROUND 4 (124)

"In Tavius Robinson, I think we have a guy who plays very, very hard. He can kick inside, can play outside, and he is physical."

EVP & GM Eric DeCosta

KYU BLU KELLY

CB | STANFORD | ROUND 5 (157)

"I think he's going to be a great Raven, great fit. He is one of those high-floor prospects. He's going to come in and do the right things."

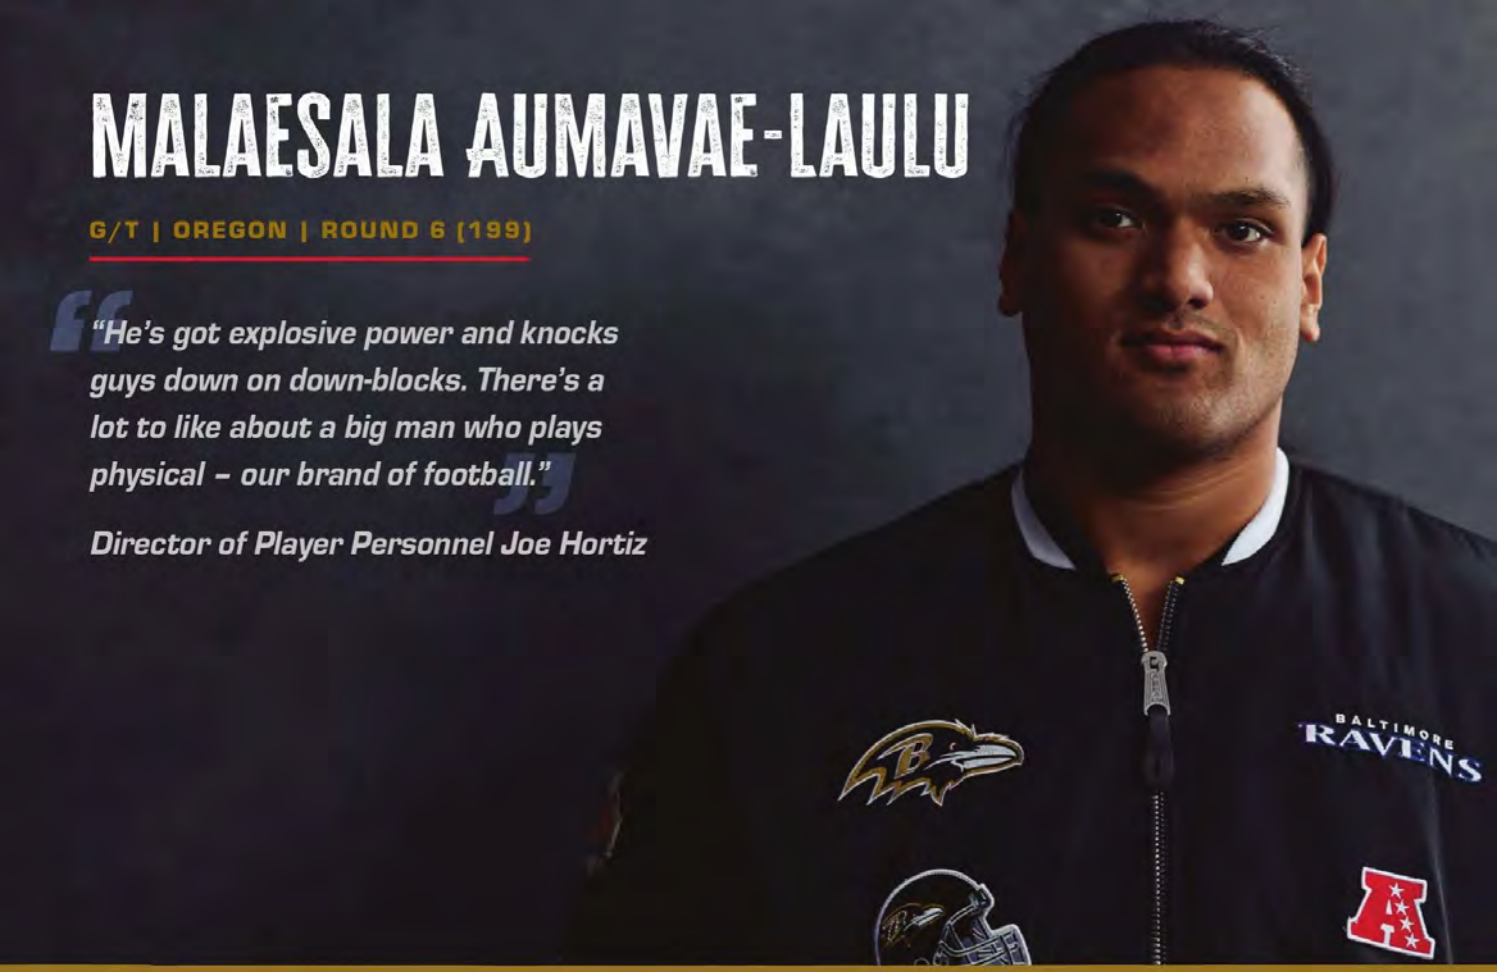
Director of College Scouting David Blackburn

MALAESALA AUMAVAE-LAULU

G/T | OREGON | ROUND 6 (199)

"He's got explosive power and knocks guys down on down-blocks. There's a lot to like about a big man who plays physical – our brand of football."

Director of Player Personnel Joe Hortiz



ANDREW VORHEES

G | USC | ROUND 7 (229)

"Andrew is a player who we've admired, and the opportunity to trade back in to get him was too appealing. We are getting a tough and physical competitor who is polished and experienced."

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 2023

MARK ANDREWS

- Needs 1,243 receiving yards to surpass Rob Gronkowski (5,555) for the most by a tight end in the first six seasons of an NFL career.
- Needs at least 700 receiving yards and 5 receiving TDs to become the second TE in NFL history (also Antonio Gates) to reach those marks in five of the first six seasons of an NFL career.
- Needs 8 receiving TDs to surpass Todd Heap (41) for the most in franchise history.
- Needs 34 receptions to surpass RB Ray Rice (369) for No. 3 on Ravens all-time charts.

J.K. DOBBINS

- Needs 500 rushing yards and 5.6 yards per carry to be the first RB in NFL history to reach those marks in three separate seasons.

MARLON HUMPHREY

- Needs at least 1 sack and 1 FF to extend his NFL-long active streak by a defensive back of five consecutive seasons to six.
- Needs 2.5 sacks to eclipse CB Corey Ivy's franchise record of sacks (7.5) by a defensive back.
- Needs another multi-sack season to tie Ivy's franchise record of multi-sack seasons (three) by a defensive back.
- Needs multiple interceptions, sacks and fumbles recoveries to become the ninth defensive back in NFL history to post at least two seasons reaching those marks. In accomplishing this feat, Humphrey would become only the fourth of the group (and first since Gene Atkins – 1990-91) to do so in consecutive seasons.

LAMAR JACKSON

- Needs 1 rushing TD to become the fifth player in NFL history (Josh Allen, Daunte Culpepper, Cam Newton & Dak Prescott), to post at least 100 passing TDs and 25 rushing TDs in the first six years of an NFL career.
- Needs eight games with at least 50 rushing yards to surpass Michael Vick (54) for the most such games by a QB in NFL history.
- Needs 563 rushing yards to reach 5,000 for his career. If he accomplishes that feat in 2023, Jackson (70 games) will surpass Michael Vick (104 games) to become the fastest QB in NFL history to reach 5,000 career rushing yards.
- Needs 563 rushing yards and 1 rushing TD to become the third QB in NFL history (Cam Newton & Michael Vick) to record at least 5,000 rushing yards and 25 rushing TDs in a career.
- Needs 530 rushing yards to climb into the Top 3 all time by an NFL QB (4,967), trailing only Michael Vick (6,109) and Cam Newton (5,628).

JUSTIN TUCKER

- Needs 112 points to surpass K Stephen Gostkowski (1,613) for the most points scored in the first 12 seasons of an NFL career.
- Needs at least 125 points scored to surpass K Stephen Gostkowski (11) for the most total seasons reaching that mark in NFL history.
- Needs three FGs made from 50-plus yards to join K Matt Prater (71) as the only two kickers in NFL history with at least 60 makes from that distance.
- Needs 37 FGs made to reach 400 for his career and become the first kicker in NFL history to reach that mark in the first 12 seasons of a career. The next-fastest kickers in NFL history to reach 400 FGs made are Jason Elam, Matt Stover & Robbie Gould, who each accomplished that feat in Year 16.
- Needs at least 140 points scored to tie K Stephen Gostkowski for the most seasons (seven) reaching that mark in NFL history.

CELEBRATING

AT M&T BANK STADIUM

M&T Bank Stadium is celebrating 25 years as the host of Ravens home games in Baltimore! The partnership between M&T Bank and the Ravens has become synonymous with winning, with the team earning a 141-60 record at 'The Bank,' which is the NFL's third-best home record since the first game in 1998 (entering 2023). And this alliance isn't ending anytime soon, as both parties reached an agreement in April to extend the partnership and retain the stadium naming rights through the 2037 season.

"THE PAST TWO DECADES TOGETHER ARE WORTH CELEBRATING, AND IT BRINGS US GREAT EXCITEMENT TO KNOW THAT THE ICONIC MOMENTS AT M&T BANK STADIUM – 'THE BANK' – WILL CONTINUE."

WELCOME TO THE FLOCK

The Ravens had a busy offseason, with the team welcoming many new players to The Flock. With an exciting crop of signings, here are three of Baltimore's biggest free agent signees looking to make a splash in 2023.

WR

SIGNED ON MARCH 29, 2023

"You never win anything because you just bring a group of guys together. Guys have to work hard. Guys have to hold each other accountable, and they also have to be very self-critical, too. And if we all push that way, I think we're going to land somewhere special."

WR

ODELL BECKHAM JR.

SIGNED ON APRIL 13, 2023

"I'm excited, but I'm also very determined and hungry, so through the smiles there's still this, 'I really want this badly.' I'm ready to be great, ready to be excellent again. I'm just ready for that opportunity."

BOYS & GIRLS CLUB / PLAYGROUND

Ravens president Sashi Brown announced the combined (Stephen & Renee Bisciotti Foundation and Baltimore Ravens) $20 million donation toward the creation of the Baltimore Ravens Boys & Girls Club at Hilton Recreation Center. The team is partnering with the Boys & Girls Club of Metropolitan Baltimore (BGCMB), Baltimore City Recreation and Parks, Ravens Legend Torrey Smith's LEVEL82, Green Street Academy and the surrounding community on this endeavor. Plans for the club include a multi-purpose athletic field with sports lighting, a teen center, activity and games spaces and tutoring spaces. BGCMB will also provide youth programs that focus on academic success, character and leadership development, the arts, health and wellness, workforce readiness and more.

Last October, Ravens president Sashi Brown (far right), alongside Baltimore County officials and the Ravens' 2022 rookie class, including Anthony Brown and Jordan Stout (pictured), celebrated the completion of Owings Mills' first destination playground. This playground was made possible by a $500,000 contribution from the Ravens as part of the NFL PLAY 60 Initiative. Located at the Northwest Regional Park, the playground includes a wheelchair accessible rubberized surface, a timed challenge course with obstacles, artificial turf 40-yard dash, musical elements, custom climbing structures and a towering play system with slides reaching more than 17 feet tall.

On May 19, the Baltimore Ravens hosted their annual organization-wide volunteer day to establish new educational and recreational spaces at Baltimore City's Morrell Park Elementary/Middle School.

There were 225 Ravens organization volunteers, including 43 players and the 2023 rookie class, who joined representatives from KABOOM!, Heart of America, Baltimore City Public Schools and Baltimore City Recreation and Parks to build a state-of-the-art playground and provide significant upgrades at Morrell Park Elementary/Middle School and Morrell Park Community Center.

Throughout the day, volunteers flocked together to construct a brand new KABOOM! playground inspired by the school's students' drawings of their "dream playspaces," transform the recreation center's computer lab by adding new furniture and graphics, beautify outdoor landscaping and school grounds and organize the school's library, while also donating 750 new books.

RAVENS TEAM UP WITH PARTNERS

In 2022, the Baltimore Ravens worked alongside 24 different sponsors to plan 73 unique activations impacting and supporting the extended Baltimore community. The Ravens work closely with partners to increase corporate and community awareness of the Ravens Foundation, player foundations and local charitable organizations. Through a wide variety of activities and events, the Ravens and various partners make a positive impact in the Maryland area while strengthening ties between the team, their partners and the community.

Malik Harrison (left) and Kyle Hamilton (right) participated in Southwest Airlines' Trading Places event, surprising customers by taking the place of the company's ground operations agents for the day.

Roquan Smith surprised a deserving family with a new HVAC system for their home through the Constellation Home Gift of Warmth program.

The Ravens teamed up with local nonprofit, Art with a Heart, and staff from M&T Bank and Constellation in support of the Greenmount West Community Center at an Earth Day volunteer event.

CAW TO ACTION

During the 2022 season, the Ravens invited fans and sponsors to join them in the team's "Caw to Action" efforts. Throughout the day, the Ravens planned 89 events across the Baltimore metro area. Projects were separated into unique teams that ranged from planting and harvesting vegetables, installing outdoor classrooms and meditation gardens at local schools and packaging mental health kits for Baltimore city students. Marcus Williams (left) celebrated Caw to Action by volunteering at Baltimore's Paul's Place, serving food to local community members. The events brought together over 21,000 volunteers culminating in 3.6 million volunteer minutes served.

RAVENS SUPPORT NFL'S CRUCIAL CATCH INITIATIVE

During the 2022 season, the Ravens and the American Cancer Society (ACS) continued to expand the reach of their efforts within the NFL's Crucial Catch initiative, which addresses early detection and risk reduction efforts for all types of cancers. In October, the Ravens treated pre-selected cancer patients with custom-fitted wigs and a surprise afternoon at M&T Bank Stadium. Patients were transported from ACS's Hope Lodge Baltimore to the stadium, where they received a tour, had their makeup done and were fitted for a brand new, custom wig of their choice. Attendees also spent time with current Ravens players.

ROQUAN SMITH

THE RAVENS SAY THANK YOU TO VETERANS AND ACTIVE MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS THROUGH THE SALUTE TO SERVICE CAMPAIGN

In association with the NFL's Salute to Service Campaign, the Ravens honor veterans and active duty members of the military all year in many ways, including welcoming military members at training camp and practices, hosting an annual youth football camp for children of military members, hosting families from Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors (TAPS) at the Under Armour Performance Center (UAPC) through the team's annual Flags with the Flock event (left), and showing support through care packages, letters and daily communication. At each home game, the Ravens honor groups that include military representatives, first responders, veterans and/or wounded warriors through the CSX Seats for Service program.

PLAY 60

Each year, the Ravens continue their commitment to prioritizing and promoting healthy nutrition and active lifestyles among today's youth through the NFL PLAY 60 campaign. The team delivered virtual and in-person programming through instructional fitness activities and insight. Through special partnerships with the American Dairy Association North East, Carroll County Project ACES (Active Children Excel in School) and Baltimore and Howard County Public School systems, the team delivered the PLAY 60 message to more than 199,000+ local youth across the Baltimore metro area. In April, the Ravens recognized 60 local students at the UAPC for going above and beyond through the PLAY 60 rewards program.

ODAFE OWEH

Thanks to Ravens players, thousands of families annually receive support, including food and gifts, during the holidays. The 2022 food distributions and meal services featured the support of 45 players, including Gus Edwards, Tyler Linderbaum, Marlon Humphrey, Odafe Oweh and Broderick Washington. In December, the Baltimore Ravens and Calais Campbell hosted the team's 17th Annual Holiday Helpers event. Campbell treated students from Bridges Baltimore to a holiday shopping spree alongside fellow teammates. Students were joined by 29 players including Justin Madubuike, Ronnie Stanley and Brandon Stephens who all served as personal shoppers. In addition, 31 players led their own/participated in shopping sprees for local, deserving youth including Mark Andrews, Rashod Bateman and Roquan Smith.

THE ROQUAN EFFECT

After being acquired in a Week 9 trade (via Chi.), Roquan Smith tallied 86 tackles, 2 sacks, 1 INT and 3 PD in nine games for the Ravens. He posted the league's third-most total tackles in 2022 (169) and became the first player since at least 2000 to record 75 + tackles with multiple teams (Chi. – 83; Bal. – 86) in a single season. Since entering the league in 2018, Smith has posted the NFL's second-most total tackles (692) and most solo tackles (450).

Give a child the gift of nature and a lifelong sense of wonder.

One of the best things you can give your child or grandchild doesn't come from a store. It's time spent outdoors discovering the gifts of nature, right in their own backyard. Nature Explore resources give you fun tools and activities to give the children in your life a love of nature, lifelong learning skills, and an everlasting sense of wonder.

Go to arborday.org and check out Nature Explore. There, you can download a free Nature Explore Families Club kit and learn about other Nature Explore resources for connecting children with nature. Whether you live in the city, the country, or anywhere in between, go online to arborday.org and start seeing what a difference nature can make.
